Large purple section does not look good

The image shows a web browser window displaying the login page for 'square panda'. The browser's address bar shows the URL 'ec2-52-7-91-40.compute-1.amazonaws.com/#/login'. The page has a purple header with the 'square panda' logo. Below the header, a red banner displays the error message 'Incorrect username or password.' with a close button. The main content area is dark grey and contains the word 'LOGIN' in white. Below this, there is a yellow box containing the email address 'carey@squarepanda.com'. Underneath the email box is a password field with masked characters '.....'. A checkbox labeled 'Remember password' is positioned below the password field. A green 'SUBMIT' button is located at the bottom of the login form. At the very bottom of the page, there are links for 'Forgot password?' and 'Not registered yet? Sign Up', and a footer with links for 'Press', 'Warranty Information', 'Privacy Policy', and 'Terms of Service'. The 'square panda' logo is also present in the bottom right corner.

Annotations:

- A red arrow points from the text 'Move error message closer to password box.' to the red error banner.
- A red arrow points from the text 'What is the significance of the yellow box?' to the yellow box containing the email address.

Move error message
closer to password box.

Can the message be more informative?

of the yellow box?
